Report of the Superintendent of Schools

It is easy to explain the overdraft by calling attention to the amount received from the state. A reduction of $250 by the state is about equal to the accumulated overdraft for the year. The last legislature made no reductions in school appropriations, but it did not consider the increased school program to be maintained in the state. There are nearly 300 more teaching positions and possibly 10,000 more children in school than there were two years ago when legislature was in session. Apparently the town must share the added burden alone.

I am more than pleased with the efforts you people are making to provide services for your children that are common in larger communities. You have had vaccinations and inoculations which is an excellent immunization program. You have started with physical examinations which we hope will continue, (each year grades 1, 4 and 7 should be done). You are continuing the noon lunch program which has been a part of the school program for many years. This year the meals are being cooked outside of school and federal assistance will help pay for the cost of the program. With 29 children in school it would be quite difficult to do all the work in school as has been done in the past.

Quite often people ask about our school program of studies. It would be difficult to describe it all here, but there are a few items that I would like to explain.

In social studies we like to combine grades and also alternate subject matter from year to year. This year grades 5 and 6 study old world history and geography as a single subject-social studies. Grades 7 and 8 study Maine for the first half year and they will study world problems the last half year. Next year grades 5 and 6 will study history and geography of the Americas, and grades 7 and 8 will also study the Americas but on a more intensive scale. In the lower grades we do not follow a definite text any more than we do in the upper grades, but we do have specific areas that we hope to cover. In grade 2 we confine our study to home and community. In grade 3 we extend to the town and state. We also include units on Indians and circus. In grade 4 we study biography and people of various lands.

There are a few items in the language arts that should be clarified. We teach children to print with large letters in the sub-primary, in grade one we continue with manuscript writing reducing the size of the letters, and in grade two there is a gradual transition to cursive writing. We are concerned with the ability of our children and adults in oral and written expression so we are making every effort to develop composition, spelling, and oral conversation. It has been proven many times that this cannot be accomplished by teaching rules of grammar alone. We hope, however, that certain grammar rules will be better understood if children have correct usage and good sentence sense.

There are other school practices which you may question, but I hope you have confidence in your teacher and superintendent, knowing that their interest is in developing both mentally and physically healthy boys and girls.

Respectfully submitted,

MERLE S. JONES

I know how pleased you people must be with the repair work which was done last summer. The new ceiling makes the room so much more attractive. Let's take this space to express our appreciation to Mr. Andrews. I hope this year we may be able to improve the walls. It is a question whether the present walls can be smoothed and decorated or whether a new covering of wall board will be necessary. The chalk-board space needs to be improved and the orange crate book cases should be replaced with permanent shelves.

Just a note in defense of the proposed budget.

We must face realities. Teachers' salaries must be increased and where all teachers in my union, with the exception of a high school graduate, are getting from $1,700 to $1,880 with possible increases for the next year we must pay $1,700. Conveyance has been extended more and more and many more children are conveyed, so we see no way to reduce that cost. High school tuition is considerably more than for past years, but this is reflected in an increased state school fund, and we should be pleased to have so many of our boys and girls continue beyond the grades.

I am more than pleased with what you have been doing for your children. You are offering them all the advantages possible for a rural school. You have a music program, lunch program and a health program that is usually found in only larger schools. Keep it up. Your boys and girls are as good and need as many advantages as other children.

Annual Report of Public Health Nursing Services Stow – 1950

One of the most important methods of securing and maintaining optimum health for a community is through the protection of its children. Health education is an ever expanding subject and should be shared with every citizen in the community.

Your public health nurse in visiting in the families of your community has tried to explain the advantages of vitamins and a well-balanced diet for growing boys and girls.

Eight children from the first, fourth and seventh grades were given a physical examination during the year. Where defects were discovered by the physician, parents have been urged to secure correction.

Gratitude is expressed to the Town Officials and all interested citizens who have cooperated with your public health nurse in the community health work for the town of Stow.

Respectfully Submitted,

ELEANOR C. MESERVE, R. N.
